

St. Louis Selects Hockey Club

Dear School Representative,

The St. Louis Selects Hockey Club takes pride in its commitment to develop quality student-athletes. Our mission is to develop and showcase the elite level Midget (HS age) hockey player from the St. Louis area and beyond, in an effort to help them realize their athletic/academic dreams. We do this by focusing on hockey development and exposure as well as academic support. The program is geared toward serious student athletes who understand that academics and athletics go hand in hand.

The club's Midget hockey teams compete in the NAPHL (North American Prospects Hockey League), a Tier I AAA league that hosts showcase tournaments at various venues throughout the country. Because of league tournament scheduling, we are sometimes required to travel during the normal school week. The club attempts to keep any school days missed, because of travel requirements, to a minimum.

The St. Louis Selects Hockey Club greatly appreciates the value of education and scholastic achievement. To foster student/player development, the club provides a comprehensive training and educational environment that is unparalleled by sports clubs in the region. We expect all of our players to be completely committed to every aspect of this program.

The club requires that each student-athlete request and obtain, in advance, assignments and/or homework for any work missed for travel days. Ample Study Hall time is supplied during every out-of-town trip to complete these assignments so that each student can be as up-to-date with schoolwork as possible upon their return to class. The club also provides weekly ACT/SAT classes through Princeton Review as part of our standard educational training regimen. We strongly believe that these classes assist a student throughout their HS years and beyond.

We ask that you help us on working with our student-athletes so that together we can provide the necessary basis for achievement and success at both the academic and athletic levels. We hope that you will take the time to know our student-athletes and support their growth by sharing our ideals and values with their counselors and teachers.

Sincerely,
